

Please do not consider overturning New Jersey's Do Not Call registry program. People deserve to have peace and quiet in their homes and not be contacted by unwanted telemarketers. If someone doesn't want to be contacted, why would a telemarketer even want their number? They are not losing business by not contacting people who don't want their calls. People work hard all day and when they get home they should have the right to only hear from people they know on the telephone. There are many reasons not to overturn this law. If we in New Jersey want a more stringent law than the federal law, that should be our right.
